SENATE BILL NO. 236

INTRODUCED BY G. HERTZ

A BILL FOR AN ACT ENTITLED: "AN ACT ESTABLISHING STANDARDS TO BE SATISFIED BY A THIRD-PARTY CLAIMANT WHEN DELIVERING A WRITTEN TIME-LIMITED DEMAND TO AN INSURER; REQUIRING A THIRD-PARTY CLAIMANT TO DELIVER ALL AVAILABLE AND SUPPORTING DOCUMENTS, RECORDS, AND INFORMATION TO AN INSURER WHEN DELIVERING A TIME-LIMITED DEMAND; PROVIDING A FAIR AND REASONABLE OPPORTUNITY FOR AN INSURER TO TIMELY INVESTIGATE AND EVALUATE CLAIMS PRESENTED TO THE INSURER WITHOUT THE RISK OR EXPOSURE OF HAVING AN UNFAIR CLAIM SETTLEMENT PRACTICES OR INSURANCE BAD FAITH CLAIM ALLEGED AGAINST THE INSURER OR UNREASONABLY CREATING ADDITIONAL LIABILITY EXPOSURE TO THE INSURER BEYOND THE LIMITS OF LIABILITY SET FORTH IN THE INSURANCE POLICY; AND PROMOTING FAIR AND REASONABLE SETTLEMENT OF CLAIMS WHILE ALLOWING INSURERS A REASONABLE OPPORTUNITY TO INVESTIGATE AND EVALUATE CLAIMS AND TO PROMPTLY AND FAIRLY SETTLE CLAIMS TO PROTECT POLICYHOLDERS."

WHEREAS, it is declared to be the public policy of this state that fair, reasonable, and prompt settlements of civil actions and claims are encouraged as beneficial to claimants, policyholders, insurers, and all citizens of this state; and

WHEREAS, the public policy of this state is not promoted by the making, presenting, or delivering of claims or settlement demands to insurers without all available and supporting documents, records, and information reasonably necessary and appropriate for an insurer to timely, fairly, and reasonably investigate and evaluate the claims or settlement demands; and

WHEREAS, both insured policyholders and insurers doing business in this state are entitled to a fair and reasonable opportunity to timely and fairly investigate and evaluate claims presented without the risk or exposure of having an unfair claim settlement practices or insurance bad faith claim asserted against the insurer or unreasonably creating additional liability exposure to the insurer beyond the limits of liability set forth in the insurance policy; and

1 WHEREAS, this policy benefits the citizens of this state because it promotes fair, reasonable, and
2 prompt settlements of claims, and reduces the nature, extent, and duration of costly litigation in the courts of 3 this state, while allowing insurers a reasonable opportunity to investigate and evaluate claims and to reasonably
4 and fairly settle claims to protect policyholders and claimants.

6 BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF MONTANA:

8 NEW SECTION. Section 1. Time-limited demands -- requirements -- insurer's fair and
9 reasonable opportunity to investigate and evaluate claims. (1) A time-limited demand from a claimant to an 10 insurer offering to settle any claim must:

- 11 (a) reference this section;
- 12 (b) be in writing and labeled "time sensitive" at the top of the first page of the writing setting forth 13 the required material terms of the offer to settle set forth in subsection (1)(d);
- 14 (c) be sent certified mail, return-receipt requested, to the insurer of the allegedly responsible party; 15 and
- 16 (d) contain the following material terms:
- 17 (i) the name of the allegedly responsible party;
- 18 (ii) the time period within which the offer to settle shall remain open for acceptance by the 19 allegedly responsible party's insurer, which may not be less than 60 days or the first business day following the 20 60th day when that day falls on a weekend or holiday;
- 21 (iii) the amount of the monetary payment requested to settle the claim, together with a description 22 of any other form of consideration sought to settle the claim;
- 23 (iv) the date and location of the damage, loss, professional negligence, or breach of fiduciary duty;
- 24 (v) a reasonable description of the nature and extent of all known injuries, damages, and losses 25 sustained by the claimant;
- 26 (vi) the party or parties to be released if the insurer accepts the time-limited demand;
- 27 (vii) a description of the claim or claims to be released if the time-limited demand is accepted; and
- 28 (viii) disclosure of eligibility, or information sufficient to verify eligibility, for medicare, medicaid, any

1 other federal or state benefit program, and any other known liens or assignments granted by the claimant that
2 apply to any of the damages claimed.

3 (2) The time period within which an insurer may accept a time-limited demand commences on the 4 date the insurer actually receives the time-limited demand through certified mail.

5 (3) (a) A time-limited demand made pursuant to this section must be accompanied and supported
6 by the following:

7 (i) all available and supporting documents, records, and information sufficient to allow the insurer
8 a fair and reasonable opportunity to investigate and evaluate the nature and extent of the alleged responsible
9 party's liability and the nature and extent of the claimant's injuries, damages, and losses;

10 (ii) medical records, invoices, and billing statements from all health care providers, if any, who 11 provided treatment to or evaluated the claimant or decedent for:

12 (A) injuries suffered in connection with the claim from the date of injury until the date of the time-
13 limited demand, including but not limited to emotional distress; and

14 (B) injuries, damages, losses, ailments, diseases, or other medical conditions occurring or existing 15 prior to the date of injury that relate or may relate in any manner to any of the claimant's claims that are the 16 subject of the written time-limited demand.

17 (b) If the claimant asserts a claim for loss of wages, earnings, compensation, or profits, however 18 denominated, the claimant shall provide records from employers or other relevant sources or tax records to 19 document the claimed loss.

20 (4) On receipt of a time-limited demand, the insurer has the right to provide a proposed settlement
21 agreement or release, or both, or seek clarification or additional information regarding terms, liens, subrogation
22 claims, alleged damages, standing to release claims, medical bills, medical records, preexisting medical 23 conditions, and other relevant facts. The claimant has the duty to provide any missing or needed documents,
24 records, and information reasonably requested by the insurer. A request for clarification or for additional 25 documents, records, or information, or to propose a settlement agreement or release, or both, may not be 26 deemed a counteroffer or rejection of the time-limited demand to settle. On a request or proposal, any time limit
27 imposed within the time-limited demand is extended a minimum of either 30 days, or by the number of days
28 from and including the date of the request to the date of receipt of the information responding to the requestor,

1 whether the terms of a settlement agreement, a release, or both, are accepted or rejected.

2 (5) If, during the time period within which a time-limited demand may be accepted, it is determined
3 that a lien attaches to any settlement payment to be paid by the allegedly responsible party's insurer, including
4 but not limited to any actual or potential medicare or medicaid lien, the claimant has a duty to cooperate with 5 the insurer to ensure satisfaction of any valid lien interest medicare, medicaid, or other lienholder may have in
6 the settlement payment. In addition, any time limit imposed within the time-limited demand must be stayed from 7 date the valid lien is identified until the date on which the claimant, allegedly responsible party, and the insurer
8 agree to address and resolve satisfaction of the valid lien.

9 (6) If an insurer with the right to settle on behalf of an insured receives a time-limited demand, the 10 insurer may accept the time-limited demand by providing written acceptance of the material terms outlined in 11 subsection (1) that is delivered or postmarked to the claimant within the time period set in the time-limited
12 demand. The person or entity providing payment to satisfy the material terms may elect to provide payment by 13 any one or more of the following means:

- 14 (a) cash;
- 15 (b) money order;
- 16 (c) wire transfer;
- 17 (d) a cashier's check issued by a bank or other financial institution;
- 18 (e) a draft or bank check issued by an insurer; or
- 19 (f) electronic funds transfer or other method of electronic payment.

20 (7) In any civil action commenced by or on behalf of a claimant, or by a claimant as an assignee of 21 the allegedly responsible party, or by the allegedly responsible party for the benefit of the claimant:

22 (a) a time-limited demand that does not strictly comply with the terms of this section may not be
23 considered as a reasonable opportunity to settle for the insurer and may not be admissible in any civil action
24 alleging extracontractual damages against the allegedly responsible party's liability insurer; and

25 (b) a claimant is not entitled to recover from the insurer as extracontractual damages any injuries,
26 damages, or losses suffered by the claimant that are not identified in the time-limited demand and supported by 27 the documents, records, and information set forth in subsection (3).

28 (8) If an insurer receives a time-limited demand from a claimant that the insurer knows or

1 reasonably believes is not represented by an attorney, and the insurer determines that the time-limited demand
2 does not strictly comply with the requirements set forth in subsections (1) and (3), the insurer is obligated to
3 notify the claimant of the requirements within 10 business days of receiving the time-limited demand from the 4 claimant. On delivery of the notice to the claimant, any time limit imposed within the time-limited demand is
5 extended a minimum of either 30 days, or by the number of days from and including the date on which the 6 claimant presents a time-limited demand to the insurer that strictly complies with the requirements in 7 subsections (4) and (5). If an insurer becomes obligated under this section to notify a claimant and fails to 8 deliver the notice to the claimant, subsection (7) may not apply in any civil action alleging extracontractual
9 damages against the insurer.

10 (9) For purposes of this section, the following definitions apply:

11 (a) "Allegedly responsible party" means any person or entity:

12 (i) claimed or alleged to have caused or contributed to cause property damage, personal injury,
13 bodily injury, wrongful death, professional negligence or liability, or breach of any fiduciary duty; or

14 (ii) claimed or alleged to have committed, engaged in, or be liable for professional negligence or 15 breach of fiduciary duty.

16 (b) "Claimant" means:

17 (i) any injured party delivering a time-limited demand to an insurer, including but not necessarily
18 limited to the injured party's attorney or any other authorized representative acting for or on behalf of the injured
19 party;

20 (ii) any insured under an insurance policy pursuing a claim or cause of action arising from or 21 related in any manner to the insurance policy issued by the insurer and delivering a time-limited demand to the 22 insurer, including but not necessarily limited to the insured's attorney or any other authorized representative
23 acting for or on behalf of the insured; or

24 (iii) any assignee of an injured party or insured delivering a time-limited demand to the insurer,
25 including but not necessarily limited to the assignee's attorney or any other authorized representative acting for 26 or on behalf of the assignee.

27 (c) "Extracontractual damages" means any amount of damages that exceeds the total available
28 policy limit of liability for all policies of liability insurance that an insurer has issued to an allegedly responsible

1 party and which policies of liability insurance are applicable to a claim for property damage, personal injury,
2 bodily injury, wrongful death, professional negligence or liability, or breach of any fiduciary duty.

3 (d) "Insurer" means any insurer referred to or defined under 33-1-201 who has issued an 4 insurance contract to an allegedly responsible party.

5 (e) "Time-limited demand" means any offer to settle any claim for personal injury, property
6 damage, bodily injury, wrongful death, professional negligence or liability, or breach of any fiduciary duty, in 7 which the offer to settle:

8 (i) is made by or on behalf of a claimant or is made based on or arising out of any rights of a 9 claimant;

10 (ii) is delivered in writing to an allegedly responsible party's insurer for purposes of offering to
11 settle a claim against the allegedly responsible party within any insurance policy limit of liability; and

12 (iii) states by its terms that it can only be accepted within a specified period of time.

14 NEW SECTION. Section 2. Codification instruction. [Section 1] is intended to be codified as an 15 integral part of Title 33, chapter 18, part 2, and the provisions of Title 33, chapter 18, part 2, apply to [section 1].

7 (i) all available and supporting documents, records, and information sufficient to allow the insurer
8 a fair and reasonable opportunity to investigate and evaluate the nature and extent of the alleged responsible

16 subject of the written time-limited demand.

17 (b) If the claimant asserts a claim for loss of wages, earnings, compensation, or profits, however

 - (v) a reasonable description of the nature and extent of all known injuries, damages, and losses sustained by the claimant;
 - (vi) the party or parties to be released if the insurer accepts the time-limited demand;
 - (vii) a description of the claim or claims to be released if the time-limited demand is accepted; and

(viii) disclosure of eligibility, or information sufficient to verify eligibility, for medicare, medicaid, any other federal or state benefit program, and any other known liens or assignments granted by the claimant that apply to any of the damages claimed.

(2) The time period within which an insurer may accept a time-limited demand commences on the date the insurer actually receives the time-limited demand through certified mail.

(3) (a) A time-limited demand made pursuant to this section must be accompanied and supported by the following:

(i) all available and supporting documents, records, and information sufficient to allow the insurer a fair and reasonable opportunity to investigate and evaluate the nature and extent of the alleged responsible party's liability and the nature and extent of the claimant's injuries, damages, and losses;

(ii) medical records, invoices, and billing statements from all health care providers, if any, who provided treatment to or evaluated the claimant or decedent for:

(A) injuries suffered in connection with the claim from the date of injury until the date of the time-limited demand, including but not limited to emotional distress; and

(B) injuries, damages, losses, ailments, diseases, or other medical conditions occurring or existing prior to the date of injury that relate or may relate in any manner to any of the claimant's claims that are the subject of the written time-limited demand.

(b) If the claimant asserts a claim for loss of wages, earnings, compensation, or profits, however denominated, the claimant shall provide records from employers or other relevant sources or tax records to document the claimed loss.

(4) On receipt of a time-limited demand, the insurer has the right to provide a proposed settlement agreement or release, or both, or seek clarification or additional information regarding terms, liens, subrogation claims, alleged damages, standing to release claims, medical bills, medical records, preexisting medical conditions, and other relevant facts. The claimant has the duty to provide any missing or needed documents, records, and information reasonably requested by the insurer. A request for clarification or for additional documents, records, or information, or to propose a settlement agreement or release, or both, may not be deemed a counteroffer or rejection of the time-limited demand to settle. On a request or proposal, any time limit imposed within the time-limited demand is extended a minimum of either 30 days, or by the number of days from and including the date of the request to the date of receipt of the information responding to the requestor, whether the terms of a settlement agreement, a release, or both, are accepted or rejected.

(5) If, during the time period within which a time-limited demand may be accepted, it is determined that a lien attaches to any settlement payment to be paid by the allegedly responsible party's insurer, including but not limited to any actual or potential medicare or medicaid lien, the claimant has a duty to cooperate with the insurer to ensure satisfaction of any valid lien interest medicare, medicaid, or other lienholder may have in the settlement payment. In addition, any time limit imposed within the time-limited demand must be stayed from date the valid lien is identified until the date on which the claimant, allegedly responsible party, and the insurer agree to address and resolve satisfaction of the valid lien.

(6) If an insurer with the right to settle on behalf of an insured receives a time-limited demand, the insurer may accept the time-limited demand by providing written acceptance of the material terms outlined in subsection (1) that is delivered or postmarked to the claimant within the time period set in the time-limited demand. The person or entity providing payment to satisfy the material terms may elect to provide payment by any one or more of the following means:

- (a) cash;
- (b) money order;
- (c) wire transfer;
- (d) a cashier's check issued by a bank or other financial institution;
- (e) a draft or bank check issued by an insurer; or
- (f) electronic funds transfer or other method of electronic payment.

(7) In any civil action commenced by or on behalf of a claimant, or by a claimant as an assignee of the allegedly responsible party, or by the allegedly responsible party for the benefit of the claimant:

(a) a time-limited demand that does not strictly comply with the terms of this section may not be considered as a reasonable opportunity to settle for the insurer and may not be admissible in any civil action alleging extracontractual damages against the allegedly responsible party's liability insurer; and

(b) an insurer is not liable for any extracontractual damages arising from or related to any injuries, damages, or losses suffered by a claimant that are not identified in the time-limited demand and supported by the documents, records, and information set forth in subsection (3).

(8) If an insurer receives a time-limited demand from a claimant that the insurer knows or reasonably believes is not represented by an attorney, and the insurer determines that the time-limited demand does not strictly comply with the requirements set forth in subsections (1) and (3), the insurer is obligated to notify the claimant of the requirements within 10 business days of receiving the time-limited demand from the claimant. On delivery of the notice to the claimant, any time limit imposed within the time-limited demand is extended a minimum of either 30 days, or by the number of days from and including the date on which the claimant presents a time-limited demand to the insurer that strictly complies with the requirements in subsections (4) and (5). If an insurer becomes obligated under this section to notify a claimant and fails to deliver the notice to the claimant, subsection (7) may not apply in any civil action alleging extracontractual damages against the insurer.

(9) For purposes of this section, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Allegedly responsible party" means any person or entity:

(i) claimed or alleged to have caused or contributed to cause property damage, personal injury, bodily injury, wrongful death, professional negligence or liability, or breach of any fiduciary duty; or

(ii) claimed or alleged to have committed, engaged in, or be liable for professional negligence or breach of fiduciary duty.

(b) "Claimant" means:

(i) any injured party delivering a time-limited demand to an insurer, including but not necessarily limited to the injured party's attorney or any other authorized representative acting for or on behalf of the injured party;

(ii) any insured under an insurance policy pursuing a claim or cause of action arising from or related in any manner to the insurance policy issued by the insurer and delivering a time-limited demand to the insurer, including but not necessarily limited to the insured's attorney or any other authorized representative acting for or on behalf of the insured; or

(iii) any assignee of an injured party or insured delivering a time-limited demand to the insurer, including but not necessarily limited to the assignee's attorney or any other authorized representative acting for or on behalf of the assignee.

(c) "Extracontractual damages" means any amount of damages caused by the allegedly responsible party that exceeds the total available policy limit of liability for all policies of liability insurance that an insurer has issued to an allegedly responsible party and which policies of liability insurance are applicable to a claim for property damage, personal injury, bodily injury, wrongful death, professional negligence or liability, or breach of any fiduciary duty.

(d) "Insurer" means any insurer referred to or defined under 33-1-201 who has issued an insurance contract to an allegedly responsible party.

(e) "Time-limited demand" means any offer to settle any claim for personal injury, property damage, bodily injury, wrongful death, professional negligence or liability, or breach of any fiduciary duty, in which the offer to settle:

(i) is made by or on behalf of a claimant or is made based on or arising out of any rights of a claimant;

(ii) is delivered in writing to an allegedly responsible party's insurer for purposes of offering to settle a claim against the allegedly responsible party within any insurance policy limit of liability; and

(iii) states by its terms that it can only be accepted within a specified period of time.

Section 2. Codification instruction. [Section 1] is intended to be codified as an integral part of Title 33, chapter 18, part 2, and the provisions of Title 33, chapter 18, part 2, apply to [section 1].

SB236:

Set Standards for Time-Limited Demands

SENATE BUSINESS & LABOR

Exhibit No. 12

2-2-23

Bill No. SB236

SB236 implements requirements for time-limited demand letters to promote fair and reasonable settlements of claims.

When attempting to extract money beyond an insurance claim, lawyers for an injured party (also called the third-party claimant) often send a letter demanding the full insurance policy limits while holding back documentation necessary to substantiate the demand.

It is not uncommon for these demand letters to set short time limits for acceptance and fail to include medical records, medical bills, repair estimates and other documentation that allows an insurance company to evaluate the extent of damages.

Lawyers use these tactics to pressure insurers to settle cases of questionable liability and damages. If the insurance company does not comply with these no-information demands, the claimant will seek to recover money beyond the policy limits.

SB236 establishes common-sense standards for time-limited demand letters.

- Demand letters sent must reasonably describe the claim and allow 60 days for acceptance.
- Claimants must provide reasonable records and information insurers need for timely, reasonable claims settlement.

Business, Labor and Economic Affairs Committee

Montana Senate

Sen. Jason Small, Chair

Re SB 165

January 27, 2023

Dear Sen. Small and Honorable committee members,

I write to inform this committee of the legal, economic and practical effect of the portion of this bill which would eliminate an insurers legal duty of good faith to third-party claimants.

As in nearly every state, Montana has long recognized that the protection purpose of insurance is destroyed by practices that deliberately and in "bad faith" exploit the vulnerability of claimants who are incapacitated by an accidental injury and who are under the financial pressure of devastating medical expenses. The duty imposed by the rule is not onerous, nor does it attach to any case where there is reasonable defenses. The rule simply provides that, in cases of clear liability, the insurer must make "good faith" attempt to effectuate a fair and equitable settlement.

Section 2 of S.B. 165 would eliminate this duty. In short the legislature would be saying that even in cases of crystal clear liability, an insurance company is allowed to act in bad faith, to exploit and leverage the claimant, and that the insurer cannot be held accountable for even the most malicious and exploitive tactics.

I am attaching to this letter an op-ed piece that describes how, even with the current law in place, insurers are strategically and intentionally breaching the duty to attempt settlement of clear liability cases because of the profits it can make while claim settlement delayed. There is a multi billion dollar financial market for these claims. That market is built on the expressly stated premise of "time-value" of delayed settlements. Offshore companies in the Cayman islands and other private equity investors are investing in this strategy:

1. deny claimants what they are clearly due ;
2. force the claimants to clog the courts with unnecessary litigation and,
3. when the judgment finally is paid, the insurer will have made more money on investments during the delay than the amount of the liability itself.

In legal terms this strategy means that Montana courts will be clogged up with unnecessary litigation for decades.

In practical terms this means that an offshore investment entity is using money that is clearly owed to a person who needs it for an oxygen machine, as investment capital. It is literally a strategy to make investments dependent on the length of human suffering.

Investment in Suffering

Mr. X has been waiting many years for a settlement of his claim for severe asbestosis. He will die soon. There is little chance he will receive payment for the medical care that he needs in the end stage of this suffocating disease. The claim can't be timely settled because it was retroactively acquired by a private equity investment fund that received a hundreds of millions of dollars to take over asbestosis claims. It is an investment that only yields a profit if claims like his can be delayed while the firm exploits the "float" between claim acquisition and claim resolution. For Mr. X, the investment strategy requires that he suffer needlessly even though liability on his claim is indisputable.

The investment scheme masquerades under the genteel phrase "retroactive reinsurance," but it is not insurance at all. It is a base and inhumane vehicle for turning a human ordeal into a commodity.

Insurance and reinsurance make up a valuable and essential system for society and economies by spreading the risk of serious or catastrophic loss from fortuitous events. But, by its definition and essential function, insurance cannot be retroactive because the fortuity has already occurred. The claim has been presented. The known loss has become a liability for existing, though unliquidated, personal injury damages.

Most people have had to present insurance claims, and many have experienced the frustration of delays. But true insurance is a highly regulated industry. Laws of every state provide protection to the claimant, and impose duties of timely acceptance coverage, prompt communication, good faith and reasonable claim resolution where liability is clear. In contrast, a private equity investment firm is not an insurer. Its sole duty is to its investors, and, when the investment is in pending claims, the primary way to maximize profit is to increase the delay so that the period of "float" is extended.

For a person like Mr. X, who is in the final months of his illness, the settlement of his clear liability claim is not responsive to insurance claim handling regulation. Instead, like any other investment commodity, the claim investment responds to market forces and the profit objectives of an investment entity far removed from the purpose of insurance to provide protection for insurable risk. As one analyst explains, "There is a third-party commercial market for these transactions, and several such deals have been consummated. In return for assuming the liability, the buyer receives a substantial cash premium, and transfer or assignment of any existing insurance proceeds. Typically, the loss portfolio is isolated, and converted or sold into a litigation shell owned and operated by the third-party buyer." Private Equity Wants To Buy Your Asbestos Liabilities, Stephen Hoke, Law360 and Products Liability360, October 31, 2019.

The legal question of the permissibility of systematic incentives for delayed claim handling under the guise of "retroactive" reinsurance is being tested in courts. The greater bellwether case. Because his case was so convincing, the attorney Clifford Edwards argues that Zurich had the desire to make sure justice – and payments – were delayed, in part to discourage other claims.

Federal lawsuit claims insurance company deliberately stalling in Libby asbestos cases

“Specifically Zurich used leveraging designed to exploit Hutt’s vulnerable position through withheld medical expense and low-ball offers,” the suit said.

Representatives from Zurich declined comment on the case for this story.

The lawsuit claims Zurich had plenty of reason to delay a settlement or drag out court proceedings: If Hutt’s case was successful, it would establish a precedent for similar cases, and a court record replete with facts and documents.

While Hutt went through several years of litigation, Zurich denied claims, including support for basic healthcare service, for example, supplemental oxygen.

Part of the case is buttressed by a decision by the Montana State Supreme Court last year when the state’s highest court determined that Maryland Casualty had breached its duty in a scathing rebuke from Chief Justice Mike McGrath:

“Maryland Casualty Company was not merely negligent in its failure to act; rather, in strategically recognizing the latency period for asbestosis to develop, MCC engaged in affirmative actions to conceal the asbestos exposure risk and worker injuries to avoid liability, effectively increasing the risk of additional harm to mill workers from further asbestos exposure.”

The suit claimed by playing a sort of legal hardball with Hutt, that Zurich could be lessening liability. Because Hutt’s case was the first of its type, if Hutt had settled, it would have likely left Zurich in a better bargaining position for other cases. This created a high-stakes game in court while Hutt struggled to get out of the house because of his advanced lung disease likely caused by asbestos exposure, court documents said.

“At an average annual rate of return in excess of 11%, Zurich has earned hundreds of millions of dollars on the Libby asbestos claim reserves for fully accrued clear

INTRODUCED BY K. REGIER

A BILL FOR AN ACT ENTITLED: "AN ACT PROTECTING EMPLOYEE AND JOB APPLICANT RIGHTS TO LEGAL EXPRESSIONS OF FREE SPEECH, INCLUDING POSTS MADE ON SOCIAL MEDIA; PROVIDING THAT TERMINATION OF AN EMPLOYEE BASED ON THE EMPLOYEE'S LEGAL EXPRESSION OF FREE SPEECH, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO STATEMENTS MADE ON SOCIAL MEDIA, IS DISCRIMINATION AND SUBJECT TO WRONGFUL DISCHARGE LAWS; PROVIDING EXCEPTIONS; AND AMENDING SECTIONS 39-2-307 AND 39-2-904, MCA."

SUBJECT: SB 243

Dear Chairman Small & Members of the Committee:

My name is Lance Kinzer, and I am the Policy Director for 1st Amendment Partnership where we are privileged to work with some of the nation's largest faith communities with respect to our common commitment to religious freedom. SB 243 offers a simple solution to a profound problem. For decades federal regulations, and the law in Montana and most other states, have prohibited religious discrimination in access to, as well as membership or participation in, a realty multiple-listing services (MLSs) or real estate brokers' organizations.¹ The National Association of Realtors (NAR) and its local affiliates are private organizations, and MLS's privately owned. But their unique role in relation to access to real estate markets has long been understood to make them appropriate subjects for reasonable legal constraints on policies that limit access.

This is particularly the case given the market power associated with the MLS. Indeed, while Courts have been divided on the subject, in 1991 the Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeals ruled that limiting MLS access to realtor association members violates federal anti-trust law. The case was remanded to allow the association to prove that there were legitimate pro-competitive justifications for restricted MLS access to association members.² But rather than litigating the case further, the association settled agreeing to provide MLS access to non-members. That resolution remains in effect in Alabama, Florida, and Georgia. A similar result was reached in state court in California, under that state's antitrust statute.³ As a result of those judicial resolutions, in those 4 states MLS access cannot be limited to association members.

These existing regulatory, statutory and judicial constraints on realtor association membership and/or MLS access all speak to the fact that government action in this area is not treading new ground. Rather, SB 243 is a natural extension of existing legal constraints designed to ensure reasonable access to realtor associations and MLSs.

SB 243 would make it clear that a realtor's lawful private, religious or moral beliefs and expression cannot be the basis of punitive action by a realtor association. Prior to November of 2020, there was no need for such protection because the NAR appropriately limited its disciplinary rules to real estate related activities. That changed when the NAR amended its Code of Ethics (COE), noting that, "This revised policy expands applicability to all of a REALTOR®'s [SIC] activities."⁴ Simultaneously, the NAR revised its definition of "public trust", thus heightening the potential punishment that may be imposed for speech and expression related violations of the NAR COE; placing them on par with misappropriation of client funds, willful discrimination, or fraud.⁵ Under NAR's Disciplinary Guidelines a first offence involving speech or expression may now carry with it "a fine of $10,000 or less" as well as "termination of membership for up to three (3) years."⁶ While such punishments are not mandatory, they are illustrative of what sanctions the NAR suggests may be appropriately imposed.

The NAR justified these changes as an effort to prevent harassing speech or hate speech directed toward a protected class. The NAR provides some guidance regarding the meaning of these terms, but ultimately instructs hearing panels that, "The terms "harassing speech," "hate speech," "epithets," and "slurs" can be commonly understood by use of a dictionary as well as other easily available references."⁷

The scope of the changes to the NAR COE, and the breadth of the potential conduct impacted by them, were causes for immediate concern among realtors who feared the NAR was seeking to weaponize its COE in a way that would allow them to punish speech and expression involving traditional religious and moral views regarding marriage, family and sexuality. As one Christian realtor put it in the aftermath of the 2020 COE change, "Though I am sure the changes made to the COE and SPSP on November 13th were intended to quell discrimination, I am concerned they will potentially foster discrimination against a particular group of Realtors. I believe these changes may put Christian Realtors in a position in which they must choose either to 1) remain silent in the public sphere about issues pertaining to sexual orientation and gender identity, or 2) share their historic Christian beliefs about these issues and risk being wrongfully accused of and reported for hate speech."

Events over the past year and a half in Montana have proven these concerns to be well founded. While others will provide greater detail on the specifics of the case, the story of bi-vocational pastor & realtor Brandon Huber and his discipline by The Missoula Organization of Realtors (an NAR affiliate), makes it plain that the new NAR COE is so expansive as to apply to the religious speech and expression of a Pastor in relation to the conduct of his own congregation. Pastor Huber's situation also shows the inadequacy of existing legal protections to address situations where the NAR chooses to punish lawful private speech unrelated to real estate or professional services as a realtor.

Numerous states across the country are watching Pastor Brandon's case, and this legislatures response, as they evaluate their own potential actions to protect the ability of realtors to practice their profession, even if they hold and express disfavored views on sensitive areas regarding marriage family and sexuality.

SB 243 is a narrowly crafted response to an increasingly pressing issues. It leaves the NAR and its affiliates free to regulate speech and expression as it sees fit, when that speech or expression occurs with respect to real estate related activities. It merely restores the pre-November 2020 reach of NAR COE speech restrictions. SB 243 does nothing to limit the range of protected classes the NAR COE can cover, nor the punishments that can be imposed. It merely states that whatever standards and punishment's it wishes to apply, cannot be exacted based upon a realtor's lawful and non-real-estate related speech or expression of their religious or moral beliefs. If not responded to, the NAR's limits of the expression of religious views it disagrees with will send a message to other professional associations that it is acceptable to exclude individuals from professional opportunities because of their religious expression. Montana can play an important role in stopping this in its tracks.

Sincerely,

Lance Kinzer

Hello, my name is Karen Berg-DiGangi. I am a resident of Missoula and a proud member of the LGBTQ+ community. I am voicing my strong opposition to SB243.

This bill is focused on attacking the professional standards that Realtors - as members of the National Association of Realtors and it's local branches - are held accountable for.

The realtor code of ethics does not in any way inhibit one's religious freedom. Instead their focus, as first adopted in 1913 as one of the first codifications of ethical duties by any business group, is to encourage, promote and preserve every person's right to own, use, exchange and transfer real property. These ensure and enhance the professionalism and integrity of the real estate industry.

Any individual seeking assistance with real estate, should not have to vet and determine if the person they are working with feels ill will toward them. And they should feel safe in knowing that if they do feel discriminated against, they have a process and backing to safely report any issues. In business you will often work with those that have different beliefs than you. As a Realtor myself, I have worked with vegans despite being a hunter, worked with christians despite being agnostic and worked with conservatives despite being liberal. I know that every client I come across is worthy of my highest ability and work and in no way deserve discrimination for a difference in life or belief. Most importantly though, THEY know that they will receive that because of my title as a Realtor.

Discrimination of any kind, towards any person, should not be allowed in the real estate industry. Housing is a basic human right.

Dear Committee Members,

On behalf of the Montana Human Rights Network and our statewide membership, I urge you to vote no on SB 243, which is an attempt to override the ethical code of professional organizations.

As you review this bill, it is important to remember that it arose because a number of Montana Realtors recognized that very public actions by one of its members violated the ethics code of the Missoula Organization of Realtors (MOR). There is no widespread problem in need of correction. MOR says its code ensures that consumers are served by requiring REALTORS to cooperate with each other in furthering clients' best interests. The Code also states that the organizations Realtors are zealous to maintain and improve the standards of their calling and share with their fellow REALTORS a common responsibility for its integrity and honor.

The Realtor in this situation didnt have a complaint filed against them due to an off-handed comment at their home or church. They were part of a very public multi-city tour that claimed that one of the speakers would expose the LGBTQ agenda that controls our lives and kills our liberty. That message was repeatedly published on the Realtors public Facebook page and on a discredited news blog managed by a former pastor who was found guilty of defamation for false comments published about a transgender Montanan.

Realtors know that discrimination is not only against the law, discrimination also harms the character of all Realtors and Montanas valued real estate industry. There is no reason to protect open discrimination toward LGBTQ+ Montanans or anyone in the state. Every resident has the right to have professional, ethical behavior followed when they purchase property through a Realtor, and professional organizations have the right to take corrective action when they see one of their members acting unethically.

Please vote no on SB 243.

Hello,

My name is Andy Nelson. I am a proud, life-long Montanan, originally from Culbertson and currently reside and work in Missoula. I am voicing my strong opposition toward SB 243. Actions face consequences and I know this bill is a way to keep individuals that publicly voice hateful rhetoric from facing consequences by their employer, in this case, those working in the real-estate industry. Claiming "religious freedom" as an excuse to voice hateful rhetoric toward a specific group of people goes against the moral and ethical standards of most organized institutions, companies and the real-estate industry. Living in this great country, we all have the right to free speech, however, that does not mean some speech does not have consequences, especially when one is held to a specific standard by their employer.

Frankly, this is bad for business. Period. Hate speech is bad for business. Discrimination is bad for business. For example, giving a real-estate agent protection to voice homophobic, transphobic or racist speech under the protection of religious freedom will only result in the loss of interested parties, me being one of them. As an out and proud 30 year old gay man who has lived in Montana his whole life and hopes to one day buy a home, there is absolutely no way I would seek a realtor or go through an association that sweeps hate speech from their employees under the rug. I grew up in a church. I know what discrimination feels like and how many use religion as their shield. That's not what Jesus taught and that is not what being a Christian is.

People are responsible for their actions and actions have consequences.

Sincerely,

Andy Nelson

I cant think of a religion that promotes hating individuals or holding them away from the things in life that many of us take for granted. It is science that has shown us that gay people are born gay, with actual physical differences in their brainsits not a choice; its not a sin. Professional organizations have the right, and, I believe, an obligation to require of their members standards exceeding legal requirements that dictate our treatment of everyone in a professional and inclusive manner. When you are a voluntary member of an organization, professional or otherwise, you have agreed to conduct yourself in accordance with their principles. Dont want to do that? Dont be a member.

I oppose this bill. Private organizations should have the right to decide what is considered professional and acceptable conduct for their members. If an individual does not want to adhere to those standards, they should not be part of the organization. And saying that fearing for ones safety is a natural and acceptable consequence of being gay is beyond abhorrent.

Thank you for your time today. My name is Pari Kemmick (K-E-M-M-I-C-K) and I live in Billings, MT. I am testifying today in DEEP opposition to Senate Bill 243. I am honestly shocked that still, in 2023, we are debating whether hate speech should be tolerated. We have seen time and time again the harm that homophobic hate speech has on LGBTQ+ people all across this state. It is sickening to me that the legislators continuously introducing bills like this one are ok with sending a message to queer folks in Montana that not only are they not welcome here, but that it is ok to openly discriminate against them. That is not the Montana that I was born and raised in and it is certainly not the Montana of the future. Hate speech is not religious freedom, hate speech is harmful, violent and against who we are as Montanans. I cannot stress enough how dangerous and harmful legislation like this is. I once again urge you to vote no on Senate Bill 243 and spend your time addressing the real crises our state faces like affordable housing, public health and more.

Re: SB 263 - An Act Revising Airport Authority Contracting Laws; Allowing Authorities to Enter into Certain Contracts, Leases, and Arrangements for 50 Years; and Amending Section 67-11-211

Chairman Small and Members of the Senate Business, Labor, and Economics Affairs Committee,

The Aircraft Owners & Pilots Association (AOPA) is the world's largest aviation membership organization representing the general aviation interests of hundreds of thousands of aircraft owners and pilots across the country, including almost 2,500 from the state of Montana. On behalf of these members, AOPA supports Senate Bill 263, An Act Revising Airport Authority Contracting Laws; Allowing Authorities to Enter into Certain Contracts, Leases, And Arrangements For 50 Years; and Amending Section 67-11-211 of the Montana Code Annotated (MCA).

Senate Bill 263 proposes to amend Section 67-11-211 of the MCA entitled "Granting of Operation and Use Privileges" to allow an authority to enter into contracts, leases, and other arrangements for terms not to exceed 50 years with any persons, instead of the current forty (40) year limit. Providing authority to airports to allow land leases of up to fifty years would bring the state into better alignment with the Federal Aviation Administration Airport Compliance Manual (Order 5190.6b) which recommends lease maximums of not more than 50 years. Further, the regulatory constraints and costs associated with new airport development often disincentivizes would-be developers and lenders from supporting shorter term leases. Longer lease terms can be particularly helpful for Montana's general aviation airports where a more diverse range of revenue sources are often required to approach airport financial self-sustainment. Particularly given that airport sponsors sometimes assume ownership of structures at the conclusion of a lease, increasing the initial lease period will allow developers to better amortize expenses and vastly enhance the attractiveness of development opportunities.

For these reasons, AOPA Supports Senate Bill 263. Please consider AOPA as a resource on this topic and other matters related to general aviation. For questions or concerns, contact AOPA Northwest Mountain Regional Manager brad.schuster@aopa.org or by phone at 202-851-7502.

Sincerely,

Brad Schuster

SB 236
SB236:

Set Standards for Time-Limited Demands

SB236 implements requirements for time-limited demand letters to promote fair and reasonable settlements of claims.

When attempting to extract money beyond an insurance claim, lawyers for an injured party (also called the third-party claimant) often send a letter demanding the full insurance policy limits while holding back documentation necessary to substantiate the demand.

It is not uncommon for these demand letters to set short time limits for acceptance and fail to include medical records, medical bills, repair estimates and other documentation that allows an insurance company to evaluate the extent of damages.

Lawyers use these tactics to pressure insurers to settle cases of questionable liability and damages. If the insurance company does not comply with these no-information demands, the claimant will seek to recover money beyond the policy limits.

SB236 establishes common-sense standards for time-limited demand letters.

- Demand letters sent must reasonably describe the claim and allow 60 days for acceptance.
- Claimants must provide reasonable records and information insurers need for timely, reasonable claims settlement.

HB 370 Generally revise uniform commercial code April 4, 2023

To: Mr. Chair and Members of the House Business and Labor Committee

Montana does not need to pave the way to CBDC (Centralized Banking Digital Currency).
Montana does not need to or should we change the UCC to give way to "electronic money" language.

If we want other businesses to move to Montana to build up our economy, if this bill passes these businesses will not come.
